Step 1 — How to Fix a Broken Necklace

- Lay your chain necklace on a flat surface.
- ⓘ This will keep the chain from tangling.

Step 2

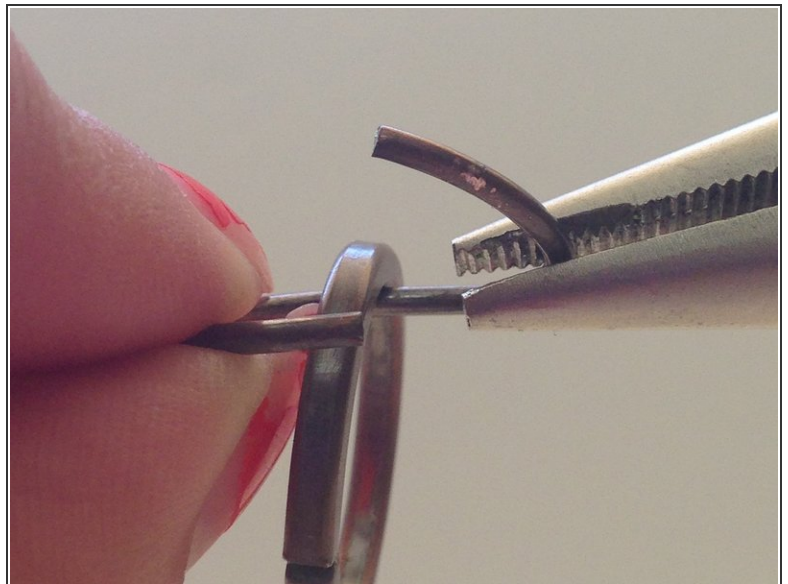

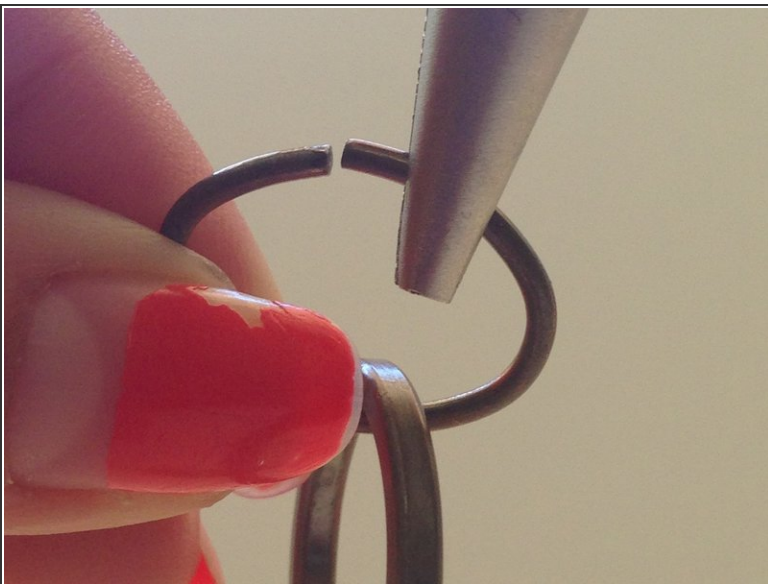

- Locate the broken link.
- Place the pliers on the right of the small opening on the chain.
- ⓘ Keep your hand a few centimeters lower than the opening of the chain to avoid accidental injuries.

Step 3

- Pull one side of the link down slightly to make the gap in the chain larger using the pliers.
- ⓘ This opens up the chain allowing you to work with it easily.

Step 4

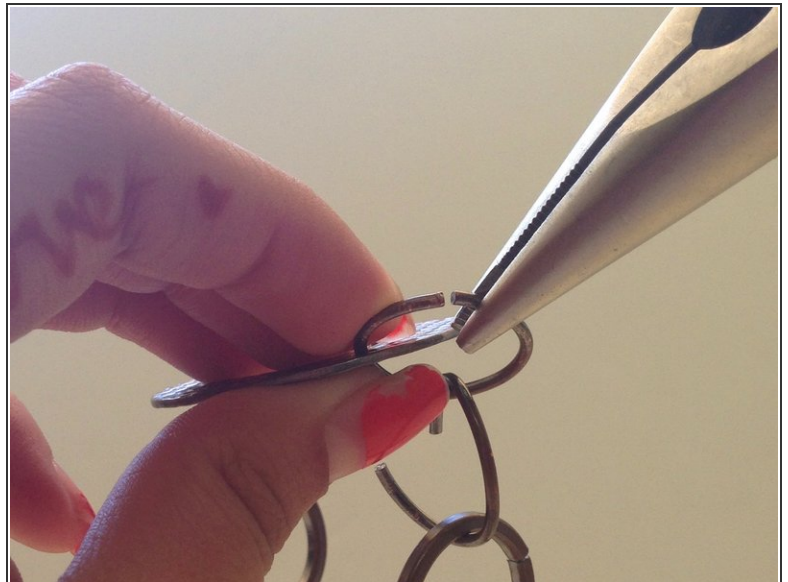

- Repeat step three on the opposite side of the chain.

Step 5

- Take both ends of the chain and hook them together.

Step 6

- Close the chain by using the pliers to push the link to its original position.

Step 7

- Repeat step six to close the other chain link.

Step 8

- Your jewelry is ready to be worn!

This creative guide can be used for all accessories whether big or small, wide or thin. Now you can restore old, broken, accessories that still have a special place in your heart.
